SUMMER 2024 – ISSUE 3

WHAT'S NEW?

The City of Little Rock and Halff Associates recently completed draft chapters of the updated Stormwater Management and Drainage Design Manual. These chapters were published for public review in March followed by 5 public meetings to discuss these updates. The City is requesting public comment on the draft chapters. A form has been created to accept comments which can be found here:

<https://forms.office.com/r/UAaVmRvzve>. Comments can also be uploaded to the website using the Upload Markups option on the homepage of the website.

The updated Appendices, including a sample submittal have been completed and are now in the process of being reviewed and approved by the City. Upon their approval, these documents will be uploaded to the website for the public review and feedback. A similar comment form will be created to accept comments. Be on the lookout for a follow-up notification on when these documents will be available for your review.

As part of this update, a cost assessment is being completed to compare the estimated cost impacts to development based upon these changes to the Stormwater and Drainage Design Manual. While we will not be able to assess every cost associated with a development, this assessment is intended to provide developers, engineers, architects, and the public a high level overview of how these changes may affect them and future development projects. This assessment will be completed prior to the third round of public information meetings to be held in June.

WHAT'S NEXT

A third round of Public Information meetings will be held in June. The intent of these meetings will be to discuss in more detail the revisions to the manual, the updated submittal process and review of a sample submittal.
